

Clearance of Suez Canal Is Completed

By WILTON WYNN

CAIRO (AP) — U. N. salvage crews today completed clearance of the Suez Canal by lifting and hauling away the sunken Egyptian freighter Abukir.

The Abukir, last major block in the 103-mile waterway, was towed to a dumping ground in the Bitter Lakes north of Suez.

Removal of the freighter opens the canal to ships up to 20,000 tons — provided the Egyptian government gives a go-ahead. Before removal only ships under 10,000 tons could go through.

Lt. Gen. Raymond A. Wheeler, chief of the clearance operation, is expected to send word to U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld, who will notify the General Assembly. The 81-nation Assembly authorized the canal clearance after the cease-fire which halted the British-French-Israeli invasion of Egypt last fall.

Speculation arose in Cairo that President Nasser may demand withdrawal of U. N. Emergency Force troops from Sharm el Sheikh on the Gulf of Aqaba as a result of an American tanker's trail-blazing trip through the disputed waterway with oil from Israel.

The 10,441-ton Kern Hills pumped Iranian oil into water-front tanks in Israel's port of Eilat while Israeli soldiers stood guard with machine guns.

Glenn E. Moseley of Portland, Ore., captain of the Kern Hills, said he expected to finish unloading his cargo — 1,000 tons of fuel oil and 15,500 tons of crude oil — and sail by midnight tonight.

The Kern Hills sailed into Eilat Saturday under the U. S. flag with her Persian Gulf cargo after an epoch-making voyage through the disputed Tiran Strait. She is the first tanker and the biggest ship ever to anchor at Eilat.

The Israelis hailed the voyage as a forerunner of others to come on regular schedule. They insist the Tiran Strait, mouth of the Aqaba Gulf, is an international waterway open to all shipping. The Israelis figure the more ships that travel the gulf to Eilat, the better case Israel can make before the World Court if the Arabs try to stop the traffic.

A Teenage Road-E-O Planned Here

The Hope Junior Chamber of Commerce announced today through General Chairman Charles Gough, the staging of the Teen-Age Road-E-O, a challenging series of tests of the teenage drivers skills and knowledge.

The Road-E-O is designed to instill safe driving habits and attitudes in the minds of our young drivers, and to encourage participation and interest in driver education courses.

The Jaycee Teen-Age Road-E-O is patterned after the National Truck Road-E-O, and is a national activity of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Winners of the Hope Competition will be entered in the State Road-E-O to be held in Crossett in May, and winners in the state will attend the national finals in Washington, D. C. with the possibility of winning one of the three scholarships totaling $4500.00 Local awards and new cars for use in the performance tests will be furnished by the insurance and automobile companies of Hope.

Any teen-age boy or girl who has not reached 20 years of age by August 15, 1957, has a valid drivers license, and a clean record of no traffic violation in the past six months is eligible.

A written test of driving knowledge will be given at Hope High School the afternoon of April 23 and entrants who are successful through this portion will compete in the driving tests Sunday afternoon, April 28th at the Airport.

Application forms will be available April 10th at Cox, Crescent, and Wards Drugstores, and at the High School office.

Teen-Agers who are interested in proving and improving their driving skills are urged to place their application early so that their qualifications may be properly confirmed. Dead line to enter is April 17th.

Farm Surplus Costs $4 Million a Day

WASHINGTON (AP) — Uncle Sam is losing money at the rate of about 4 million dollars a day on stocks of surplus farm products.

A Commodity Credit Corp. report today showed that the government lost a total of $837,784,000 in carrying out programs for handling and disposing of surplus supplies acquired under farm rice support programs during the 7-month period ending Feb. 28.

Most of the losses were incurred in the sale of farm products for export at prices less than cost or in donations to needy persons in this country and abroad.

Farm officials hope that the surpluses can be disposed of within two or three years and the losses stopped.

The 8-month losses by commodities included: cotton $370,555,000, wheat $82,484,000; corn $71,063,000, rice $60,367,000, dried milk $61,040,000 cheese $42,187,000, butter $10,704,000 grain sorghum $21,830,000 and fluid milk $48,727,000.

TAKE A GOOD LOOK — Take a good look at this see-through model of the proposed earth satellite. It may be the nearest thing to the actual launching of the little space traveler that you'll ever see. Rear Adm. Rawson Bennett, chief of Naval research, says that if he has his way, the press will be barred from actual launching of the satellite at Cape Canaveral, Fla., some time in the next year. His reason: those in charge of the program might be tempted to fire it despite adverse conditions, because of publicity. From left in Washington, D. C.: Dr. Allan T. Country Red Cross Drive Short of Quota

The deadline for reporting funds to the Hempstead County Red cross campaign has been extended to April 15 in an effort to reach the quota of $4500.

It was announced today by Mrs. George H. Wright, county drive chairman.

She urged campaign workers to continue to canvass their assigned areas in an effort to reach the goal.

Many persons have not contributed to this worthy cause, and those wishing to do so may mail their contributions direct to Mrs. Wright at Hope.

The latest tabulation brought the fund to a total of $2245.09 which is still far short of the campaign goal.

Workers in the communities of McNab, Columbus, Washington, Bingen and Spring Hill have completed their canvass and reported funds, but nothing has been heard from some other communities.

Services will be held at Herndon-Cornelius Chapel at 2:30 p. m. Monday by the Rev. V. D. Keeley. The body will be shipped to Detroit Michigan for burial.

Anyone desiring information concerning the Marine Corps or their military obligation may contact Sgt. Wood at the Post Office from 11:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. on Tuesdays and from 12:30 to 4:00 p. m. on Fridays.

Two Petitions Planned by Foes of Sales Tax

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sponsors of a proposal for a popular vote on the legislative act increasing the sales tax will circulate two sets of petitions.

One would call a special election on the measure under which the tax rate was boosted from 2 percent to 3 percent.

The second would refer the act to a vote at the 1958 general election.

Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett today said he had received a request for an opinion on validity of the petition form, ballot title and popular name for the general election petition.

Bennett last month approved three forms for a petition for a special election.

Signatures of qualified voters equal to 15 per cent of the total vote cast in the race for governor in the November, 1956, general election will be necessary to call a special election.

A vote at the general election may be called by only six per cent of the total.

Bennett said that the petition forms, ballot title and popular name submitted in the request for a new ruling were identical which he valued last month.

However he declined to say in advance of his formal opinion what his ruling would be on the new request.

Robert C. Downey of Little Rock, one of the lawyers for sponsors of the referendum, said that circulators would distribute both sets of petitions at the same time and that each signer would be asked to affix his signature to both.

The apparent "strategy" is to force a special election if enough signatures are obtained and let the matter go on the general election ballot if the number of signatures falls short of the total required for the special vote.

The referendum movement is being sponsored by Hope Newspaper Publisher Alex H. Washburn.

Gov. Orval Faubus, who sponsored the sales tax increase, said today he was "inclined" to think that the voters would sustain the 3 percent tax if an election on it materializes.

A total of 399,012 votes were cast in the 1956 gubernatorial race. To refer the sales tax increase to a special election, sponsors would have to obtain 59,851 signatures; to refer the measure to the 1958 general election 23,941 signatures would be required.

Apparently, the deadline for filing of signatures on either set of petitions is June 12.

Says Military Aid Belongs to Defense

By WARREN DUFFEE

WASHINGTON (UP) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles proposed today that foreign military aid be made a part of the defense budget in the future.

Dulles also recommended that a 750 million-dollar revolving fund be set up to handle foreign economic aid on a loan basis.

The secretary in testimony before a special Senate Foreign Aid committee proposed further that so-called "defense support" — indirect military aid — be authorized on a continuing basis. Congress would appropriate money for it annually as it does with other continuing programs.

Dulles' recommendations were viewed as the administration's answer to warnings that the foreign aid program is in real trouble among Congressmen unless the administration comes up with a new approach.

The proposed switch of military aid to the defense budget would reduce the size of the foreign assistance bill. But the cut would be added to defense appropriations.

Plenty New Jobs Are Created by Legislature

Undecided on State Appointments

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval Faubus said today that he still has some appointments to state positions to make, but it will be 30 to 40 days before he completes them.

These include three members to the Oil and Gas Commission, the entire Water Rights Commission and his three appointees on the Sovereignty Commission.

Faubus said he plans to attend two out of state conferences in May or June. He identified them as a conference on industrial development and regional education in Atlanta, and the National Conference of Governors in Williamsburg, Va.

4-H Forestry Projects Shown to 29

Gene and Lynn Evans of Columbus 4-H Club showed 29 4-H Club boys and leaders Friday morning their forestry demonstrations that produced pine trees valued at $8.30 per acre for each year the land had been in pine.

The sandy eroded area was in cotton in 1943. Seed trees seeded the field. For the field meet Gene and Lynn harvested in the thinning operation 6.5 cords pulpwood valued at $26.00 per acre and have a greatly improved stand with a volume of 14 cords valued at $56.00 left.

A second thinning is planned for 1959 and 1960. John Ellis, International Paper Company Forester, assisted the boys with the stand improvement practice.

In a program presented under the direction of Wade Benefield, Associate County Agent, the youth and adult leaders observed a marking for thinning demonstration by Gene Evans; a harvesting demonstration by Lynn Evans; and a planting technique demonstration by Thomas Clendenin.

McNab 4-H Club Leader L. E. Young, with the assistance of members of his community club, presented a fire prevention and suppression demonstration.

Mr. Young, Forest Ranger of the Arkansas Forestry Commission for the McNab area, vividly said, "It took 13 years to produce this pine plantation but it all can be destroyed by a fire in about ten minutes."

The 4-H Club members assisting Mr. Young were: Phillip Knighton, Dail Clayton, Carl Clayton, Jimmie Anderson, C. J. Knighton, John Barnes, Tom Hawthorne, Hubert Applegate, and Louis S. Young.

Forester Ellis showed how to release good young trees from overhead competition so as to increase the yield of commercially valuable trees by girdling weed trees with an axe or "Little Beaver" power driven machine. The application of chemical solutions to prevent sprouting was also shown.

County Agent Oliver L. Adams and timberman Alf Gunter summarized the meeting. Details regarding forestry management may be secured at the Extension Service Office in the Courthouse.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — No one knows for sure just how many new jobs the 1957 Legislature set up nor how much money it appropriated.

Julian Hogan, director of the budget division of the state comptroller's office, said today that it will be weeks before the number of jobs can be determined. He said he hopes it will be sooner than that before he can tell how much money was appropriated for state government for the two fiscal years beginning July 1.

The Arkansas Public Service Commission is a good example of the complexity of the situation.

The division of the PSC illustrates at least two points:

1. The liberal attitude of the 1957 Legislature toward more state jobs — many of them probably needed to carry on state services — and more and bigger salaries — many of them probably deserved.

2. The tendency of recent legislatures — not only the one just passed — to expand the number of state commissions and departments, either by splitting up existing agencies or by creating new ones.

For most of the 10 years before 1955 the PSC fixed utility rates, passed on requests of motor and rail carriers to institute or discontinue service, set the rates of public utilities, and regulated the rates of public utilities.

In 1955 the tax reassessment program authorized by the Legislature was added to the functions which the commission was charged with supervising.

That year the Legislature appropriated a total of $1,021,000 for the expenses of all departments of the commission including two years' maximum salaries for 98 officials and employees of the agency.

This year the Legislature broke up the Public Service Commission into three separate agencies, authorized a total of 93 officials and employees for the three and appropriated a total of $1,574,250 for two years' salaries and expenses.

Hogan pointed out that the state has no overall personnel department which might be expected to keep track of the number of jobs.

He said that it is necessary to compile this information sometime before the new fiscal year starts to avoid any possibility that someone may be drawing a salary which has not been appropriated.

The budget director said that it will be a task of considerable magnitude for him and a group of his associates to examine and analyze all the money bills enacted into law to determine that there is a job for every appropriation and vice versa.

Determination of the overall appropriation total will be somewhat less onerous, but still quite a chore, he said.

Hogan declined to make even a rough guess on either the job situation or the appropriation total.

The Legislature cut away from the Public Service Commission, already cited as an example of a trend, its transportation division, its tax division and its reassessment division.

The PSC was continued, but as a regulatory body for utilities only.

Rain, Cold, Hail Sweep Across Part of State

By The Associated Press

More spring violence in the form of swiftly moving thunderstorms, rumbled across Arkansas last night and early today, bringing rain, hail, wind and the promise of a sharp cold snap.

No tornadoes were reported, although loud "roaring" noises were reported in the darkness at Danville and Magnolia and all but the northwest tip of the state was under a tornado alert from 5 p. m. yesterday until 6 a. m. this morning.

High winds damaged some house roofs extensively and destroyed four barns near Waldron, in west Arkansas.

Som damage was expected to the blossoming strawberry crop in northeast Arkansas from the freezing temperatures and frost forecast for tonight.

Miles McPeck, federal agricultural statistician at Little Rock, said that the severe weather would damage the strawberry blossoms, but that this would not "wipe out" the crop. It would mean a delay in the harvest and a smaller harvest, he said.

A spokesman for the weather bureau said that the frost would be general in northeast Arkansas although some areas "in the open" may escape.

"There seems to be little doubt that the temperature will drop below freezing in northwest and northeast Arkansas," the spokesman said.

The forecast also was close to the danger point for peach farmers.

At Clarksville, peach farmers said that the trees now have small peaches and a temperature of 22 degrees or lower would have to be reached before the crop is endangered.

The peach and strawberry crops — both tremendously important to northwest and northeast Arkansas, respectively — were wiped out on April 14, 1955, when a late blizzard "dropped" to 10 degrees in some areas.

The thunderstorms moved from west to east across the state and temperatures nose dived right after the storms. At Little Rock, the temperature dropped from 72 to 59 degrees in an hour and a half early today, and then fell another 11 degrees in the next four hours.

"The Little Rock weather bureau tracked a half dozen heavy thunderstorms moving from Southwest to northeast that threw scary but undamaging punches at Hot Springs, Ola, Danville, Morrilton, Conway and Little Rock.

Hail fell on Conway and Danville but no damage was reported.

A deep low pressure area and an advancing cold front stirred up the weather-brew that caused tornado warnings for a huge area running on both sides of a line from Tyler, Tex., to Jackson, Tenn. This strip ran through the bulk of Arkansas and touched sections of Northeast Texas, Tennessee, Missouri, Mississippi, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Alabama.

Arkansas had much more area than any of the other states exposed to the violent weather prediction.

Early Bowie Knife by Black in a Hope Collection

This knife, believed to be an early Bowie forged by James Black, is in the collection of classic guns and side-arms owned by Bill Edwards of Hope. The blade is 9 1/2 inches long and 2 inches wide. More than 100 years ago Black's smithy at Washington, then the county seat of Hempstead, turned out many and diverse knives to the specifications of the great James Bowie. Another of Black's famous knives is owned by Mrs. Steve Carrigan of Hope and was pictured in The Star's Centennial Edition of 1956.

The Star made this picture of Mr. Edwards' knife on its new copying machine, just now placed in service. Its specialty is either copying old photographs or making original close-up pictures such as this one.

19 Meet Death by Accidents in Arkansas

By The Associated Press

Drownings, associated with the high water in Arkansas streams and rivers, ran traffic accidents, a close race as the major cause of violent deaths in the state last week. Nineteen persons lost their lives.

Traffic accidents accounted for nine deaths in Arkansas. Drownings took six lives, rat poison one, a horse-riding accident another and one man died of undetermined causes.

Janett Lee Dahn, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dahn of Fort Smith died Sunday following a throw from a horse Friday. The girl was tossed 20 feet when her horse stumbled in a soft hole while she was riding with a friend. She never regained consciousness.

Other weekend fatalities included a 15-year-old Negro girl killed near North Little Rock in a traffic accident. She was identified as Doris Jean Lane of North Little Rock.

Fred Adams, 13-year-old Stuttgart youth, was killed early Sunday when an automobile overturned off U. S. 70 near Stuttgart.

Highway Dept. Can Regulate City Parking

LITTLE ROCK (AP) The Arkansas Supreme Court ruled today that the Arkansas Highway Commission has authority to forbid parking on truck routes through cities.

The decision reversed Pulaski Chancery Court, Second Division, which had enjoined the commission from placing "no parking" signs on a truck route it had designated through the city of Little Rock.

Companion suits against the commission were brought by the city, which claimed jurisdiction over parking, and by a group of property owners along the route.

The two cases were consolidated on appeal.

In a unanimous opinion, written by Associate Justice Ed F. McFaddin, the Supreme Court said that the truck route is part of the state highway system and that the Highway Commission is vested with exclusive control of the highway system.

Craighead Chancery Court, Western Division, was upheld in its decree dividing 27 acres among heirs of the late Lee Findley, a brother of Lee, who claimed ownership through a title, had appealed.

The Supreme Court affirmed Eocene Circuit Court judgment of $383.33 against Willie L. McEntire in connection with purchase of an automobile.

McEntire was granted a recession of the contract on ground he was a minor when it was executed and surrendered the car. The trial judge held that since restitution had been made the bank was not entitled to any other relief.

A one year sentence for carnal abuse imposed on Carmen Smith Jr. in Desha Circuit Court was upheld.

There are 53,500 tons of metal in the U. S. aircraft carrier Saratoga.

One estimate is that a quarter of the world's electricity will be produced by atomic energy in 1975.

Riley Jones, died of undetermined causes following an altercation with another man at the Jones home Sunday.

Prosecutor Ed Gordon of Morrilton said Jones was in a truck with a saw, drink bottle during an argument and drove to a justice of the peace to report the incident and file charges. He returned home and died in his bed. An autopsy is scheduled in Little Rock to determine the cause of death.

Gordon said Elmer C. Martin, about 40, was charged with second degree murder in Municipal court in Russellville and released on bond. Gordon explained the charge was filled to expedite a preliminary hearing following the autopsy.

Two Memphis men drowned Saturday near West Memphis, Ark., when their outboard motorboat sank on Dacus Lake. The dead were Orion Ward, 27, and Jimmy Wilkerson, 30. Ward's 3-year-old son, wearing a life jacket, was rescued unharmed. The bodies were recovered.

Aga Khan III, Rita Asked to Rush Child

ANNES, France. (AP)—Prince Aly Khan has wired an appeal to Rita Hayworth to rush their child, Princess Yasmine, to the bedside of her gravely ill grandfather, the Aga Khan.

Prince Aly was summoned from Paris yesterday as four doctors set up an around-the-clock ruler on the wealthy, 70-year-old ruler of the Ismaili Moslems.

The Aga Khan has been steadily failing in recent months. A medical bulletin last night said he had a recurrence of pulmonary bronchitis but was "slightly better and his temperature has gone down slightly."

Tornadoes Hit at Sections Across Dixie

By United Press

A twister ripped a rural Mississippi community in Dixie's 'fourth do alley' today and storm clouds dumped heavy, wet snow on the Midwest and East.

The tornado cut a swath four miles and 1/4 mile wide near Tupelo, Miss. It destroyed one home, one barn and a machine shop and damaged other homes, but most residents had taken refuge in storm cellars and no one was reported injured.

The Weather Bureau issued tornado alerts for a broad area of the south from Louisiana northward to Huntington, W. Va. But it lifted the alert at mid-morning for all sections except northeast Mississippi and western Tennessee and said the danger would end there by noon.

A belt of heavy snow fell from Illinois to New York State, and the storm forced many schools to close in Northern Ohio.

The snow piled 10 inches deep in Toledo, Ohio, and here was eight inches at Goshen, Ind., six inches in Central Illinois and three inches at Erie, Pa.

The Rockies and Western Plains states dug out from under as much as a foot of snow left by third spring snowstorm to hit the area in as many weeks.

Winter refused to give ground to spring. The mercury fell to seven degrees below zero at Engle, Colo., and Denver thermometers registered a frigid nine above, a new all-time record low for April 8.

It was 5 above at Cheyenne, Wyo., equalling a low set in 1975.

Freezing temperatures were predicted as far south as Tennessee tonight.

The weather bureau issued tornado alerts for a broad area of the South extending from Northeast Louisiana northeastward to Huntington, W. A. The alert covered northeast Arkansas, southern east Missouri, and portions of Mississippi, Alabama, Tennessee, and Kentucky.

The storm swept into Kansas and the Texas and Oklahoma parts during the night, after dumping an average of one foot of new snow in much of Colorado, Wyoming and Nebraska. Leadville, Colo., with 36 inches of snow on the ground, had the heaviest accumulation.

News About A Proven Way For Relief From Ache & Pain Attacks of ARTHRITIS - RHEUMATISM

Hear what Mrs. M. M. of Indianapolis has to say about a product called "Special Provo Tablets." This letter received from Mrs. M. M. was totally unsolicited.

Quote, "I want to say thank you for 'Special Provo'. I have suffered for several years with arthritis of the spine. I tried so many remedies without getting relief. I finally gave up and decided there was no help for me. I would just have to endure the pain. I stopped reading the ads on remedies that were supposed to help, but I think God I did read your ad and decided to try just this one more time. Well, I've been taking it for six weeks. I had forgotten how wonderful it was to be free from pain. I feel like a new person. Words cannot express how grateful am. I do hope those who are suffering from it will give it a chance, for even if everyone didn't get the wonderful results I have, I am sure there are many who will."

Yes, thousands of people are obtaining relief from pain attacks of arthritis and rheumatism with Provo because Special Provo Tablets actually give you more than just pain relief because they contain an ingredient essential to the health and elasticity for connecting tissues in joints and body generally, plus are antipyretic and contain the No. 1 pain relieving ingredient for arthritis and rheumatism.

All reputable drug stores now stock Provo in all three sizes, $1.50, $2.75 and $4.00.

In case of severe continued pain see your doctor.

Ford Captures
Masters Meet
at Augusta

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Doug Ford learned to swing on a baseball diamond, cultivated a putting touch on a billiard table and turned fighter to become the new Masters Champion and currently golf's most successful money collector.

"I didn't think I was aggressive enough, so I changed my grip this year with the idea of getting closer to the pin," the 34-year-old touring pro from Mahopac, N. Y., said today, fingering the $8,750 first prize check of the Masters.

The windfall raised Ford's golf winning of the year to $25,684, well ahead of his competitors.
"I never was one to play it safe," he added. "I guess you'd say I'm a gambler all the way."

Ford's daredevil gambling instinct and his new-found aggressiveness carried him to the greatest finishing round in the Masters history - a 6-under-par 66 - which left favorites gapping.

Doug's total of 288 for four rounds over Augusta National's exacting course was three shots better than that of Sam Snead,
the front runner for two days.

Jimmy Demaret followed at 287 and Harvie Ward Jr., the brilliant national amateur champion, was another stroke back at 288.

Demaret called one hole - the 11th - "coward's hole," and Snead, Ward and defending champion Jack Burke Jr., who shot 291, all admitted that Augusta National wasn't a course which could be attacked. It had to be "babied."

The round-faced, bull-shouldered Ford proved all these theories false as he came from three strokes back in the final round to score a spectacular triumph.

Ford blasted out of a trap and into the cup to nail a birdie 3 on the final hole but he said later the tournament was won for him on the 320-yard, par-five 15th.

"My caddy told me I should play it safe but I told him, 'This is the ball game,'" Doug said afterwards. "So I took a spoon and flew it over the pond 40 feet from the flag. I got down in 2 for a birdie 4 and I felt I had it."

Demaret shot a final 70. Snead a 72 and Ward a 73. Australia's Peter Thomson took a 71 for 289 and lame-armed Ed Furgol a 74 for 290. Dow Finsterwald and Arnold Palmer had 291.

Yankees May Have Another Clutch Player

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press Sports Writer

Their clutch has been the talent-loaded Yankees apparently have struck another baseball gold mine in 2-year-old Tony Kubek.

Kubek isn't even on the Yankees roster but that little oversight will be taken care of within the next few days.

If there was any doubt about his status, the six-foot, three-inch outfielder thoroughly dispelled it with a two-out, 10th inning single that drove in the winning run in a 3-2 victory over the Red Sox.

That made it twice in less than a week that young Kubek supplied the payoff wallop in a Yankee triumph. Last Tuesday he came through with a single in the ninth to bat Boston 1-0.

"To tell a fantastic," declares an almost unbelieving Casey Stengel.
"He can hit, he can run and he can throw. He's got only one weakness. He still don't know how to flip down his sun glasses in the outfield. But I'm workin' on that with him."

Outfielder Rocky Colavito put on quite a show at Dallas when he rocketed three home runs over the wall to lead the Indians to an 8-7 decision over the Giants. His third home of the day came in the ninth with one on off Reliever John McCall. Al Smith also homered for Cleveland in a 15-hit assault on three Giant pitchers while Hank Sauer and Daryl Spencer conceded for the losers.

The Pittsburgh Pirates rolled to their fourth straight victory and seventh in their last eight games by beating the Kansas City Athletics, 6-4, at For Myers, Fla. Lee Walls homered for the Pirates but it was Gene Freese's two-run double in the seventh that drove in the deciding runs. Vern Law went the route for Pittsburgh, allowing 11 hits.

Charley Maxwell smashed a three-run double and also singled to boost his spring batting average to .476 in pacing the Tiger to a 5-4 victory over the Phillies. The Phillies threw a scare into the Tigers when Ted Kazanski hit a three-run homer in the ninth off Jim Bunning, but Bill Tuttle collared pinch hitter Frank Baumholtz to drive in the game. Jim Hearn was the loser.

Milwaukee edged Brooklyn, 4-3,
at Fort Worth Tex., with the aid of a freak play in the ninth.

Elmer Valo's ninth inning single hit base runner Don Zimmer and prevented the tying and winning runs from crossing the plate.

Prior to the game, Dodger Manager Walt Alton announced Don Newcombe would be Brooklyn's opening day pitcher and then New-combe went out and gave up six hits and three runs in seven innings. Two of the hits off him were homers by Iland Arron and Bobby Thomson.

Cincinnati used an old familiar weapon - the home run, to defeat
Washington, 9-7, at Nashville, Tenn.
The Redlegs wiped out a five-run deficit with two homers by Ed
Bailey and one each by Don Hoak, Gus Bell and Frank Robinson.

The White Sox and Cardinals
split a doubleheader at Savannah, Ga., St. Louis winning the opener, 13-10, and Chicago taking the five-inning nightcap, 2-0. A total of 20 runs were scored in the second inning of the first game, the Cards scoring 11 and the White Sox nine.
Stan Musial collected three hits in the opener.

Wal Moryn drove in three runs with a single and a double to supply the big punch in the Cubs' 8-6 win over the Pirates at San Antonio. Tex. Bob Niemann and George Kell homered for Baltimore. Before the game, Manager Bob Scheffing announced Bob Rush would be the Cubs' opening day pitcher against Milwaukee, April 16.

Celtics, Hawks
Tied at Two-All

ST. LOUIS (AP)—St. Louis Hawks
Coach Alex Hannum said it - "rebounding will tell the story" - and that's just what put the powerful Boston Celtics all even with the Hawks in their National Basketball Association title playoff.

The Celtics pulled out a 123-118 victory last night after losing all but one point of an 18-point lead in the face of a big rally by the fired-up Hawks.

Boston is even at 2-2 in the best-of-seven series for a $10,000 prize, but the fact is they hold the edge because the seventh game, if needed, will be played in Boston.

The fifth game will be at Boston tomorrow night and the sixth in St. Louis Thursday.

The Celtics won the rebound battle last night, 67-50, with 6-foot-10 Olympic star Bill Russell grabbing 20 rebounds for Bob Pettit, the top man for the Hawks.

Bob Cousy led the Celtics with 31 points and Pettit led the Hawks with 33 but it was Cliff Hagan, with 17 points in the final 14 minutes, who led the amazing Hawk comeback.

ing Babe Zaharias Open Champion Marlene Bauer Hagge, move on to Dallas this week for the $7,500
Dallas Open starting Thursday.

Mrs. Hagge captured her second straight Zaharias Open title yesterday with a 72-78-72-222, four strokes better than Betty Dodd, her closest competitor, with a 228.

Fighting high winds and threatening skies, Mrs. Hagge pulled away from Ruth Jensen with only six extra puts over yesterday's 18 holes for a final one-under-par 72.

Four Local Junior Rifle Teams Outshoot Texans

Hope's Junior Rifle Team blew things wide open yesterday at Henderson, Texas by defeating the very highly rated Childress, Texas Junior Police Rifle Team in the final match of the National Junior Sectional Rifle Tournament.

The Hope Team finished the match with a three point lead. After the match was challenged by the Texans and all the targets rescored, the locals finished with an official one point victory.

The official match totals were Hope 1273 and Childress 1272. Childress was representing West Texas.

Hope's Team No. 1, under 15, consisted of David Moore, 320, Don Oglesby 288, Judy Kaye Wright 344

No. 2 finished a close third behind the Childress team. Team
